Hints at Reprisals Against Moslems

Two Can Play at Violence
Game Paper States About Stabbing

NEW DELHI, Aug. 26 (AP)—The Hindustan Times, edited by Devadas Gandhi, hinted today at possible Congress party reprisals against the Moslem League which it blamed for political violence.

Commenting on the stabbing of Sir Shafat Ahmad Khan, a non-League Moslem appointed to the Congress-formed interim government for India, the Hindustan Times said "violence is a game at which two can play."

Sir Shafat was reported recovering today from seven stab wounds by two unknown assailants.

The Times editor's father, Mohandas K. Gandhi, writing in his weekly newspaper Harijan, declared "the way to Pakistan (an independent Moslem state demanded by the league) does not lie through senseless violence."

A strict curfew continued in old Delhi where five killed and 70 injured in bazaar riots Saturday night in a new outbreak of dissatisfaction by Moslems over formation of the new government. Another person was killed at Allahabad last night.

Navy Probes Yacht Bombing in Lake

Seven Fishermen Escape When Planes Attack 38-Foot Cruiser

DETROIT, Aug. 26 (AP)—A full-scale investigation was ordered by Navy officials today in the accidental dive-bombing of a private yacht in Lake Erie Sunday by three Navy planes.

Seven fishermen aboard the 38-foot cruiser, named "the Albion," escaped serious injury when it was set afire by a practice bomb.

The planes, piloted by reserve officers on a week-end training mission, were from the Grosse Ile Naval Air Station. Navy officials said they apparently mistook the yacht for their similar-looking floating target.

A Navy crash boat, which a spokesman said was in the area of pleasure craft, rescued the men—George W. McFarland, Frank Szczeski, Jr., and Raymond of Toledo; A. S. Goss of Fremont, O.; and C. M. Goss of H. S. Fresh of Sandusky.

One of the boats stayed on to fight the fire, but the boat burned to the water line. He estimated damage at $5,000.

James F. A. Brossy, executive of Goss Inc., said preliminary investigation indicated one of the boats was at fault in not positively identifying the target and taking proper disciplinary action.

None of the fliers were withheld pending completion of the investigation.

Russian Says Nation Has Been Lenient on Demands

PARIS, Aug. 26 (AP)—An Australian delegate to the peace conference today proposed that Russia be called upon to "justify her reparations demands," and asked that a special "on the spot investigation" be made of the ability of former European enemy nations to pay the Soviet's $900,000,000 demands.

E. Ronald Walker made the proposal to the economic commission for the Balkans after the Italian commission had approved two more paragraphs of the preamble of the Italian draft treaty.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov responded:

"Australia has not had her fields, cities and industries devastated."

He described Russia as "lenient" in asking for $300,000,000 from Romania when "billions of dollars of damage had been done."

Molotov pointed out that Russia had increased the time allotted for payment from six to eight years.

Russia has asked reparations from Romania, Finland, Hungary and Italy. The United States, Great Britain and France did not include reparations demands of any set figure in the draft treaties and the foreign secretaries conference prepared for the peace parley.

Passes 1.3 Per Cent

The Italian commission to date has passed on approximately 1.3 per cent of the entire document. No progress whatever has been made on any of the other four treaties.

Nearly three and a half hours were consumed in debate before 18 words of a Netherlands amendment and seven words of an Australian amendment were adopted by the Italian commission and the fourth and fifth paragraphs of the treaty finally approved. There are more than 55,000 words in the five treaties.

The Netherlands amendment, adopted after revision, had the effect of giving to Italy greater recognition for her part in the war against Germany. As finally approved, it read:

"Whereas after the said armistice the Italian armed forces, both of the government and of the resistance, have been..."

Leading Politicians Are Cast In September Party Contests

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Political leaders who may figure in the 1948 and 1952 presidential races are cast in leading roles for September's windup of major primaries and party conventions.

A Republican party meeting to adopt a state platform in Nebraska today and a Congress race run off for the Democratic nomination in the seventh Mississippi district tomorrow are the only political events scheduled this week.

In the Mississippi race, Rep. Dan R. McGehee is contesting with John Bell Williams, a one-armed war veteran. Nebraska Republicans hear a keynote speech this afternoon by Senator Chapman Revercomb (R-W. Va.), who is mentioned as a potential vice-presidential candidate two years from now.

Last week's political bill closed with Texas Democrats picking Beauford H. Jester as the state's next governor in a run-off primary with Homer P. Rainey, former University of Texas president. Two veteran House members also won renomination, which means the election in Texas. They are Representatives Joseph J. Mansfield and Milton H. West.

Next month, New York and Connecticut conventions share interest with Maine's customary advance general election in the last whirlwind of party preparations for the final showdown November 5.

Security Council to Give Hearing

Ukraine Says That Greece Threatens Balkan Peace; Frontier Matters and 'Persecutions' Are Alleged

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—An early hearing by the United Nations Security Council of the charge by the Soviet Ukraine that the Greek government is a threat to the peace of the Balkans appeared assured today.

Acting swiftly in answer to the Ukraine's request for speed, the United Nations secretariat and Dr. Oscar Lange of Poland, president of the Security Council, put the new case on the Council's agenda for Wednesday, immediately after consideration of applications by nine nations for admissions to the United Nations.

Because of the lengthy discussion of new members expected in the Council when it convenes for the first meeting at its new Lake Success, N. Y., headquarters, it was believed in United Nations circles that the Greek case would be heard late in the week.

The case materialized Saturday when Dmitri Manuilsky, foreign minister of the Ukraine Soviet Socialist Republic, sent from Paris, where he is attending the peace conference, to Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the U. N., a complaint charging the Greek government with:

Numerous border incidents on the Greek-Albanian frontier "which are being provoked by the Greek armed units with the connivance and encouragement of the Greek authorities."

Persecution of national minorities in Macedonia, Thrace and Epirus.

The complaint said such a policy "threatens to convert the Balkan peninsula into a center of bitter conflicts and to entail international complications."

The Soviet Ukraine said the

Selective Service Sends Out Calls for Quota of 25,000

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Those presidential "greetings" are in the mails again.

Shut down for two months, the draft machinery is chugging back into action.

Reception center lines will begin to form next week. And by the end of September selective service is reasonably confident it will meet the army's quota of 25,000 men in the 19-29 age group.

In June, while the whole future of the draft was up in the air, only 6,400 men were inducted. There were no teen-agers among them. Congress finally compromised on that issue by exempting 18-year-olds but specifying those 19 were to be drafted.

During the July-August holiday when the War Department asked no inductions, local boards have been registering and classifying men between 18 and 44 under instructions from Maj. Gen. Lewis B.

Tito Government Says Anglo-American Craft Still Fly Over

BELGRADE, Aug. 26 (AP)—Rescue parties combed the Julian Alps today in a renewed search for two missing U. S. airmen while plans were completed to accord highest military honors to three of their comrades killed August 19 when their transport plane was shot down by Yugoslav fighters.

The Yugoslav Fourth Army, in whose command area the plane crashed in flames, stood by on orders from the government to accompany the bodies of the trio from the village of Koprivnik to Belgrade.

Top ranking officers of the Fourth Army will accompany the flag-draped funeral vehicle today from Koprivnik, where the airmen were buried in a common grave, to the airport at Ljubljana. The procession will pass through Bled, where Premier Marshal Tito has been vacationing.

A guard of honor will remain with the bodies at a mortuary in Ljubljana until they are placed aboard the private plane of U. S. Ambassador Richard C. Patterson for the flight, possibly tomorrow, to Belgrade.

A Yugoslav fighter squadron will circle Ljubljana and escort the ambassador's plane to the Yugoslav capital.

(It was not clear whether the three would be buried in Belgrade or the United States. A Belgrade dispatch Saturday said they would be buried in the U. S. Military Cemetery on the outskirts of the Yugoslav city. However, a Paris dispatch said that U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes had asked the army to bring the bodies to the United States for burial.)

LT. COL. Chester M. Stratton, assistant U. S. military attache, announced Marshal Tito's compliance with the American request for highest military honors.

To Send Out Searchers

The embassy also said that the Fourth Army would send out new searching parties through the rugged terrain in the vicinity of the crash to seek the two missing Americans.

(The U. S. State Department, in a statement issued Saturday night, indicated that whether the United States would hale Yugoslavia before the United Nations Security Council for shooting down two U. S. transport planes depended on "the efforts of the Yugoslav government to right the wrong done.")

Although Marshal Tito informed Patterson that no one parachuted from the flaming C-47, the bodies of only three of the five occupants have been recovered. Only one of the dead—Capt. H. F. Schreiber—has been identified definitely.

Eye-witnesses have maintained they saw two persons parachute from the plane. Some sources, however, said that what the eye-witnesses actually saw were two gas tanks jettisoned from the transport.

Stratton said American military authorities "have complete confidence" in the U. S. graves registration detail which reported only three bodies were found in the mass grave. This raises the distinct possibility the other two members of the crew may still be alive.

Despite compliance by the Yugoslav government with U. S. requests for high military honors and for assistance in the search for the missing, the Yugoslav ministry of information made new accusations against aircraft of Britain and the United States yesterday.

The ministry asserted that 110 "Anglo-American military planes" violated Yugoslav territory between U. S. August 10—the day after the first U. S. transport was shot down—and August 20.

It said that of this number 34 were fighters, 567 bombers and the remainder transports.

Tito declared previously that the purpose of the flights was "re-

Adams Says Law Cuts Out Veterans' Insurance Protests

The local contact office of the U. S. Veterans Administration at 20 East street, this city, has received the following information of vital interest to all veterans:

"Objections most frequently made by veterans to National Service Life Insurance have been largely eliminated by passage of the new insurance act, Charles C. Adams, Regional Office manager of the Veterans Administration announced today.

"According to the provisions of the new insurance act, Adams said, 'G. I. insurance now includes lump payments to beneficiaries, dependent policies, a disability income provision, unrestricted designation of beneficiaries, and other features not available when many veterans took out their policies.'

"William H. Mitchell, Regional Insurance officer, reported that Veterans' Administrators representing in the 20 eastern New York counties were now prepared to help veterans take advantage of the new liberalized provisions.

Three Endowment Forms
"In outlining the new insurance act, Mitchell said that three kinds of endowment policies are now available to veterans. These include 20 year endowment, and endowment at age 60 and endowment at age 65. Rates for converting insurance into endowment policies have been received by V. A. officials in this region, and veterans who are prepared to pay the additional cost of an endowment plan can convert now to this kind of policy.

"Another new feature of the revised insurance law is the method for paying beneficiaries of married policies. Policy holders can elect to have payments made in one lump sum, or in equal monthly installments. Mitchell pointed out that the lump sum payment, which is a completely new feature of G. I. insurance, could only be made to beneficiaries after August 1, 1946, provided the policy holder had selected this kind of payment. Beneficiaries already receiving payments from government insurance cannot request to have the balance of the insurance settlement paid in one lump sum.

"The guaranteed life income provision, which has been a regular feature of government insurance settlements remains the same.

Good News Contained
"Good news for veterans who failed to buy insurance while in service is contained in the new law. Any veteran who served between October 8, 1940, and September 2, 1945, is eligible to buy government insurance policy. This means a veteran will pay the same premiums and receive the same policy as if he were on active duty today," Mitchell said.

"A medical examination is necessary before the veteran can buy insurance for the first time, but any service incurred disability or injury prior to June 1946, will not prevent a veteran from being eligible for a policy.

"If the veteran wants to increase the amount of his insurance, the new law allows him to up the total value of his policy to $10,000.

"Additional security for the policy holder is contained in the new law, which provides a disability income to the veteran who becomes totally disabled. For a slightly extra cost, the veteran can arrange to have his insurance while he is unable to earn a living. Payment rates for this service have been released, and are being distributed to all field personnel, Mitchell said.

"Restrictions on beneficiaries have been lifted by the new act. This makes it possible for the policy holder to designate any person or persons, firm, corporation, or his own estate as the beneficiary of his policy."

Firms Expect Further Employment in State

New York, Aug. 26—Representative large New York state firms employing 750,000 workers reported a one per cent increase in personnel from the middle of June to the middle of July, Joseph B. O'Connor, regional U.S.E.S. director, revealed today. At the same time he announced that his agency had filled 50,387 regular jobs in July, a rise of six per cent over the preceding month and of 28 per cent from July, 1945, when war production was at its peak.

Seasonal increases in the food industry as well as expansion in chemical, iron and steel, machinery and automobile manufacture, O'Connor said, more than offset such unfavorable employment factors as shortage of materials, O.P.A. price uncertainties, and the layoff of 5,000 workers in the shipbuilding industry.

Despite an anticipated additional layoff of 13,000 shipyard workers by the middle of September, the establishments reporting to the U.S.E.S. expect to record a further increase of two per cent in the number of their employees by that date, O'Connor stated.

Besides regular job placements, O'Connor's figures show that during July U.S.E.S. offices in the state supplied foreign, migrant and casual workers with 165,000 man-days of labor in seasonal farm activities, and made 17,607 day-work placement in household jobs.

That regular placement in Kingston were 118 as compared with 164 in June. Of these, 44 were in manufacturing plants, five in agriculture, and 69 in other jobs. In addition, six household and 4,120 other day-to-day openings were filled, and three persons were placed in out-of-town jobs.

Has Atomic Gas Developed to Run Rail Locomotives

Buffalo Concern Applies for Patent on Device to Run Train for Less Than Dollar

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 26 (AP)—The Buffalo Machinery Company developed a device which it says produces an atomic eventually expected to be capable of driving locomotives from coast to coast at a cost of less than one dollar.

F. Alden Miller, vice-president of the machine and tools and steam turbine firm, says the concern has applied for a patent on a rectifier which he said produces a combustible gas from a commercial type of atomic "C" uranium.

Miller described the experimental model as about 24 inches high, tabular in shape and built of inch-thick high tensile steel to withstand a pressure of 6,000 pounds per square inch.

The device, he said, contained a chamber for a six ounce charge of atomic "C" dissolved into six ounces of inert material (wood dash). Saturated with water the charge produces a gas for which no name has yet been chosen, he added.

The substance merges a drop at a time in the form of a grey mass. When it reaches the air is dried by the 170-180 degree (Fahrenheit) temperature produced in the rectifier," Miller said. "As it dries the released gas burns just like ordinary illuminating gas."

Acknowledging that the present costs were high, Miller said the "best advice we can get indicate that atomic 'C' eventually can be bought, for between 50 cents and a dollar a pound."

"It would take only about one pound to operate a locomotive for four days—long enough to travel from coast to coast," he added.

He said availability of the material depended on the government's control plans.

Two College Gamblers Shot in New York

New York, Aug. 26 (AP)—Two ex-convicts were shot, one fatally, yesterday in a typical gangland fashion in lower Manhattan where the victims were hit by eight shots fired by the occupants of a big black sedan.

Police questioned 20 acquaintances of the victims yesterday and said they had received information that both men had been trying to "muscle in" on floating dice games in the neighborhood.

Auditor to Return To Face Charges

Milford, Pa., Aug. 26 (AP)—A 45-year-old Stamford, Conn., auditor who admitted disappearing with his four sons and a three-year-old Chinese boy in order "to attract attention so I could try and find my wife" prepared to return to Connecticut today to face charges in connection with the "disappearance."

Prosecutor F. Lawrence Epifanio said in Stamford, Conn., yesterday he had issued a warrant for the arrest of Abraham Kohn, the auditor, on a charge of "woefully and unlawfully permitting a minor under 16 to be placed under such a situation that his life is endangered or his health is likely to be injured."

Kohn, together with his sons whose ages range from six to 14 and the Chinese boy, were taken into custody Saturday night by Pennsylvania state police here. They disappeared Friday, leaving a rowboat drifting in Long Island Sound near Mamaroneck, N. Y., as the only clue to their whereabouts.

Miller described the experimental model as about 24 inches high, tabular in shape and built of inch-thick high tensile steel to withstand a pressure of 6,000 pounds per square inch.

The device, he said, contained a chamber for a six ounce charge of atomic "C" dissolved into six ounces of inert material (wood dash). Saturated with water the charge produces a gas for which no name has yet been chosen, he added.

McReynolds Dies At 84 at Hospital At Nation's Capital

Dissenting Democrat Quits Bench in 1911 After 26 Years; Only Two Survive

JAMES C. McREYNOLDS

Washington, Aug. 26 (AP)—James Clark McReynolds, who topped all his supreme court colleagues in dissenting to New Deal laws, is dead.

The 84 year old retired associate justice died at Walter Reed Army Hospital Saturday night. He had been ill a year.

The body will be taken to Elkton, Ky., for funeral services Thursday.

McReynolds stepped down from the court on February 1, 1941, after 26 years on the bench—the last eight of them marked by fiery denunciations of legislation pushed through congress by the Roosevelt administration.

A Democrat himself—he served as attorney general under Woodrow Wilson—McReynolds nevertheless voted against every major New Deal measure and nearly all minor ones that reached the high court.

His death leaves only two members of the court which President Roosevelt said was made up of "nine old men" living in "horse and buggy days." They are Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes and Associate Justice Owen J. Roberts, both retired.

McReynolds' death came unexpectedly. He entered the hospital August 2 but apparent improvement in his condition led his brother, Dr. Robert P. McReynolds, to leave for his Los Angeles home Friday. That day, however, the retired justice developed signs of pneumonia and a failing heart.

His brother, the only close relative, was reached at Chicago and hurried back to Washington.

McReynolds summed up his attitude toward the New Deal in four words spoken extemporaneously after he had started to read a formal dissent in the famous "gold clause" decision. That ruling upheld a Roosevelt-inspired law forbidding payment of obligations in gold.

Tossing his text aside, the justice banged his fist on the bench and shouted: "The constitution is gone."

Away from the court, McReynolds put aside his gruffly stern manner and often entertained for close friends.

He "adopted" 33 children in Great Britain who were left homeless by the German Blitz.

Crack Trains Held By Freight Derailment

New York, Aug. 26 (AP)—Several crack New York Central trains were delayed for as much as four hours last night and early today as the result of the derailment of a freight train in a tunnel between Garrison and Peekskill, N. Y., on the line's Hudson Division.

Two accidents were reported in the wreck which railroad officials said occurred when a flat car carrying heavy freight turned over in the tunnel after steel rods in the cargo shifted and scraped the side of the tunnel.

The resulting tie-up halted all through traffic between New York and Albany for several hours and delayed the departure of many westbound trains from the Grand Central Terminal in New York.

Among the passenger trains delayed were the Twentieth Century Limited to Chicago and the Wolverine to Detroit.

Incoming trains, among them the North Shore Limited from Chicago, the Missouri from St. Louis and the Laurentian from Montreal, were switched at Albany over the Boston and Albany railroad line to Chatham and then to New York over the Central's Harlem division.

Railroad officials said traffic was rapidly nearing normal early this morning.

Korean Operation Talks Unlikely To Be Resumed

Seoul, Aug. 26 (AP)—Russian-American conversations toward the establishment of a provisional Democratic government in Korea, which were broken off last May 6, appeared today to have little prospect of ever being resumed—at least in the foreseeable future.

This was disclosed today when the public relations officer for Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge, American commander in southern Korea, made public correspondence between Hodge and Col. Gen. I. M. Chistiakov, Soviet commander in northern Korea.

The gist of the correspondence was that the two commanders are holding without compromise to their original views regarding Korean political parties. Those directly opposed opinions resulted in the breakup of the conversations last spring and the return of the Russian delegates to North Korea, where they have remained.

In considering the formation of the provisional Korean government, Hodge maintained that all Korean parties should have opportunity to express themselves. Chistiakov contended that only those groups which did not oppose the Moscow decision, which outlined the Allied program for establishing Korean independence, should be consulted.

The correspondence released today disclosed that Chistiakov had advised Hodge that after careful study of the commission's material he (Chistiakov) was convinced that the Soviet stand was "correct." The Russian members, he added, will be glad to resume negotiations, when the American group decides to agree with the Soviet viewpoint.

Hodge replied that he found nothing in the Moscow decision limiting the nature of the provisional government nor those consulted about it. He also suggested that the word "democratic" be applied in its commonly accepted sense of applying to all classes except those opposed to popular rule.

The American commander then suggested that the Russians might wish to revise their views in light of his re-expressed position. Which is where they were last May.

THESIS THEORY

The traditional belief that a graduate student in a college or university must write a dry thesis in order to get an advanced degree is considered obsolete by Dr. George D. Stoddard, new president of the University of Illinois.

Dr. Stoddard thinks it much more to the point if a student of English or music could earn his degree by writing a play or concerto, or producing some other comparable original work. The creative project would require at least as much knowledge and thought as the thesis, it would be more interesting to work on, and would probably be more useful in the end.

Topics of theses for doctorates have frequently been ridiculed, because the rule that the subject must be one never before used has led to minute fields of knowledge not always worth the extensive research and effort. By the time the degree is achieved, the student often has spent too much time on detailed study which proves of little future value.

More creative work from candidates for Ph.D.'s would undoubtedly add greatly to the general body of American literature, music and art.

It was a nice story about the Viking ship full of treasure buried in the Red River Valley, but the historians couldn't find it. The trouble with buried gold is that rainbows are geographically inaccurate.

PORTUGUESE INDIA

The Hindu-Moslem quarrel is not the only trouble to be settled in determining the future of India. There are the large native states with their own rulers, like Hyderabad, and there are the small fragments held by France and Portugal. France still owns Pondichery, a west coast seaport, a relic of the 18th century days when she disputed with England the ownership of India. She has expressed a willingness to cede Pondichery to an independent India. No like word has yet come from the Portuguese.

Goa, also on the west coast, is with Macao in China, the last survivor of 16th and 17th century overseas Portugal, composed of seaports and coaling stations up and down the East Indies. Once the capital of the Portuguese East Indian empire, it was so magnificent that a Portuguese proverb ran, "He who has seen Goa need not see Lisbon."

That was long ago, and Goa is now a decayed settlement whose misrule is criticized by the Hindus. Probably its ownership by Portugal would not continue long if India became an independent state.

Too many phases of the housing problem remind us of the commanding officer who used to pound the desk and say, "People are always telling me why things can't be done, instead of doing them."

EUROPE'S LARGEST AIT

What is the largest island within Europe? The catch lies in the word "within," which excludes Sicily and the other islands of the Mediterranean. The answer, which no one except a professional geographer would be likely to guess, is Csallokaz, an island in the Danube River which Hungary is seeking at the Paris peace conference.

Csallokaz is 53 miles long and 16 wide, rather sizable for a river island and much too big to receive the name "ait," which many first learned from crossword puzzles. Its command of the Danube has made it valuable in the past, and caused it to be awarded to Czechoslovakia after World War I. Now the Hungarians would like it back. While the population is Magyar, making Hungarian ownership legitimate, the peace conference apparently feels no special obligation to be kind to a country which was on the German side in two wars.

U.N.R.R.A. will be taken over by the United Nations, which means that more countries will have to worry about where the manna comes from.

UN'S LAND HUNT

It is difficult to understand why, if UN cannot hold the meeting of its Assembly, it has to be in such a hurry to grab off a huge piece of American territory. It might wait until it is fully established and its status sure before it takes so serious a step as to arrange for the dispossession of Americans from their homes. Nor does one have to be opposed to the grand conception of a United Nations to question the judgment of its officials in pressing for this land grant. They apparently are less optimistic concerning their future than I am, for if they were certain of the usefulness and success of their work, they would not need to tie us down to a specific area and a hard and fast contract. A grateful world would give UN anything if it could produce peace even for a quarter of a century.

It would seem that these UN officials want their contract and deed now lest the time pass when they can get it. But why do they need two or five or ten or twenty square miles? What can they possibly do in those vast areas that they cannot do in an auditorium? And why do they fear that the United States will be less willing to give them land three or five or ten years from now that they demand of us today.

Peace is our requirement—not peace for a year or two but for as long as possible. The United Nations Organization was established to provide an apparatus to maintain the peace, with justice, dignity and honor. The cause is so worthy that it is impossible to refuse any organization the opportunity to try to accomplish the goal. No failure can really be discouraging, no delay can produce pessimism. A way must be found to end these disastrous wars, to end this ruthless destruction of civilization.

But why is it necessary to dispossess and displace Americans, to drive them from their homes? Why do UN officials devote themselves so ardently to the establishment of a state within a state, an extra-territorial enclave within the territorial boundaries of the United States? Why is this necessary? What end does it serve? In what manner will such land grabbing aid the peace of the world?

UN was offered adequate facilities for its present purposes by the City of New York. But they rejected this as a permanent home. Yet, the United States grew into a mighty nation in spite of the fact that its capital was a small building in the City of Washington. As a matter of fact, our government was founded in Philadelphia, was inaugurated in New York and made permanent in Washington. By the time the capital was established, the nation had been established. If UN meets any measure of success, nothing will be too good for it. But it can wait until it has accomplished something more than Gromyko's vetoes.

Even so, who can tell at this stage where it is wisest for UN to be? In a rush, it was decided that the United States is the most suitable home, probably because this country will, directly and indirectly, pay most of the expenses—and also because the Russians objected to Switzerland as being pro-Fascist. But who can foretell what the next year or two might bring?

What, for instance, would the position of UN be, situated in the United States, if the American people were to decide that they can take Russian insults and Yugoslavian outrages no longer and that they will withdraw from futile conferences? Could UN remain here without an American delegation?

I am not suggesting this as a serious possibility, but who could have foretold two years ago that Soviet Russia would have forgotten the services of the nation that rescued her from Hitler, or that the Yugoslavians would be using American planes to shoot down American fliers? Who can foretell tomorrow? Therefore, why hurry?

UN can be well served in its present temporary home until achievements make it a permanent body. It will be time enough then to establish a permanent home.

INFERIORITY COMPLEX

"An inferiority complex is a group of ideas the central one of which is disbelieved in oneself, in one's values to the community, and in one's abilities in this or that direction, with a strong charge or feeling of helplessness and fear at the heart of the complex, which drives one from this or that situation, makes one dislike going into the company of others, fear meeting a stranger, shrink from attempting the difficult, or anything that may be criticized, and so on."

I believe the above definition by Leslie D. Weatherhead, M.A., in his book "Psychology and Life" gives us, in simple language, the idea of this now often mentioned condition.

We are hearing today of all kinds of complexes—health, weather, music, athletics and others. We are not ashamed of these complexes.

The reason that we dislike to see an inferiority complex in ourselves or in others is that no matter what we try to do we feel beaten or half beaten before we try to do it. Everybody wants to do things, to be "somebody," to help others, to be favorably known, to be respected, to want to believe in ourselves. This doesn't mean that we should try to have a "superiority complex," to go about believing in ourselves to the extent that "we feel we are in a better position than other people." This would be rightly called a delusion.

Overcoming an inferiority complex is fighting down the "I can't," and believing "I can."

"Now if a man has an inferiority complex then because he also has a wish for power (two all have it), he has two forces in the same kind going in opposite directions. Two rivers are flowing in opposite ways causing tumult and confusion." An inferiority complex thus often causes a breakdown.

Inferiority complex is often caused in childhood by thoughtless parents who treat one child with more consideration than another perhaps because of illness or because he or she is the baby of the family. In other cases one member of the family is brighter or stronger, or better looking, causing an inferiority complex in the other. Other cases are caused by the dominating attitude of one or both parents, their way is the right way, the only way in fact.

Fortunately, our group games, summer camps, and watchful teachers prevent many cases of inferiority complex.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By TOM REEDY
(For Hal Boyle)

Egling, Germany, Aug. 26 (AP)—Germany is getting crowded with Adolf Hitler and Eva Braun.

The latest Hitler in a growing crop turned up here in a sanitarium insisting one minute that he was Adolf himself and in the next that he was pinching until the real Fuehrer returned.

There have been at least six Hitlers and possibly as many Evas in various hospitals for the mentally ill in Germany since the capitulation.

Doctors think it is quite usual for a deranged German to get such a delusion these days. It's a little like the Napoleon complex.

Egling hospital got its Hitler on the streets some months ago. He was a corporal in the Wehrmacht, the same as Der Fuehrer; he was a painter by trade; his name is Ludwig Doll, aged 26.

Doll formed a "committee" of seven, just as Hitler did in Munich, 10 miles away, 25 years ago. He was all set to proceed when the authorities decided to break up his street speeches. One Hitler was enough.

When Ludwig was taken to the hospital, he stood on his dignity as a true Fuehrer. But that got pretty boring and the party work was being neglected. So he took another tack. He said he wasn't the Fuehrer at all; that he had been "appointed" to act for the leader until he got back from Valhalla.

Doll drew up a new flag for his program; a set of party rules and named a "cabinet" to rule the world. He proposed President Truman as finance minister; Stalin as police chief, Britain, he says, would provide the navy; Russia the SS and Gestapo, the United States the propaganda and—of course, the dough. Germany would be the "intellectual leader."

Doll hasn't adopted the mousetrap yet. But he gets his hair cropped short so that one lock falls down over one eye reminiscent of a certain character around these parts.

Most of all he wants to be out of this place. But he isn't going to get out. The doctors know that the first thing he'll do is to get up on a soapbox and make a speech—and there may be just enough darned fools around to listen.

Life Halted For Tot

Life stopped for Patricia Coulton, of Millwall, England, when the house in which she lived was hit by a landmine five years ago and she lay buried for five hours beneath the rubble. She was 18 months old then and still looks that age—a bright eyed little child with rosy cheeks who sits all day on a sofa. She is nearly seven now, but never moves and never smiles. Doctors say both her mind and body stopped growing when the landmine struck. They say she is incurable.

Gamblers Are Stunned

Brazilians are stunned by President General Dutra's recent decree, ending gambling, Rio de Janeiro reports, and many hotels, deprived of their main source of income, have closed, adding to the housing shortage. Casinos, the bright lights of Rio's night life, were attached to hotels and provided grill rooms with entertainment as good as anywhere in the world. As many Brazilians are born gamblers, the Casinos played an important part in the nation's social and economic structure.

RUST ON FOLIAGE DELPHINIUM LEAF SPOT

Fall Check-Up for Garden Sanitation

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Association

DISEASES of plants are easier to prevent than cure. The most important preventive is sanitation. Check your garden now with this in mind. The control measures include the picking and burning of diseased leaves and the burning of infected flower stalks.

Sanitation in the fall will help to control the most common fungous diseases such as rusts, mildews and leaf spot. Rust spores live over winter on old stems and leaves and are ready in the spring to infect the new growth.

Rusts make their appearance as reddish-orange or rusty-brown blisters on leaves and stems, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. When the infection is light only the lower leaves are killed, but if the infection is severe the plants will wilt and die.

Fall sanitation should be followed in the spring by spraying the ground around infected plants with Bordeaux mixture. Follow this with a dusting of sulphur about every 10 days.

Inspection of delphinium plants as part of a fall sanitation campaign may reveal leaf spot, which is one of the worst of the blights. This disease produces irregular, tarry, black areas on leaves, flower buds and stems. These spots on a delphinium leaf are illustrated in the Garden-Graph.

Control of leaf spot includes picking off the infected parts of the plant and destroying them as rapidly as possible as they appear. In the spring spray the infected plants with Bordeaux mixture, repeat this spraying about every two weeks during the growing season.

Tito's Compliance Does Not Answer Question, Why Did Yugoslavs Attack Americans Flying Over Country
By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 26—Marshal Tito's compliance with the American ultimatum to release the fliers does not dispose of the larger question—Why did Yugoslav fighter planes attack unarmed American planes.

The wanton murder of American citizens occurred in rigid execution of general orders from the Yugoslav government. It is said the planes ventured inside the air lane over which sovereignty is claimed by the Belgrade government, but this does not excuse or really explain the deliberate attack.

When an unarmed person strays into a forbidden zone, he is not killed but arrested. The Yugoslav planes knew they were observing a transport plane. They knew the plane was powerless to defend itself. Yet they shot it down as deliberately as if these Americans were walking on the ground and had held up their hands to indicate that they were not armed.

Murder in cold blood by a government which professes to have been a friend of the United States and a government which has received food and economic help from the people of the United States has awakened official Washington to the fact that there is perhaps a concerted attempt developing in the Russian orbit of states to drive America from the European continent.

Back of Yugoslavia is Moscow. This is conceded everywhere in Washington. Hence the murder of American citizens is being regarded as a test of American courage and resoluteness. The Department of State will find the American people much interested in how the American position is safeguarded. Any pussyfooting at this stage will be condemned. It will be easy to discern, and certainly all Europe is watching to see whether the United States means what it says and whether American citizens can be killed with impunity and only a few sharp words of reprimand ensue.

The United States government has indicated that it will demand "satisfaction." This can mean an indemnity in money and an apology. It can lead also to a demand that Yugoslavia demobilize her army and air force and return to a peaceful basis and that threats of attacks against any friendly nations be removed. For Yugoslavia has shown herself to possess an irresponsible government which prefers to use military force rather than diplomacy. Yugoslavia is governed by Dictator Marshal Tito, whose behavior is a threat to peace. If Tito gets away with his challenges to the United States the whole Balkan area will lose respect for America and for the United Nations as well.

A course of action which exacts punishment from Yugoslavia is absolutely essential. It will not lead to war but will save the American people from a Third World War. Had the American and British peoples been awakened when Hitler marched into the Rhineland in 1936, many fine American boys would be alive today instead of sleeping in the cemeteries of continental Europe.

The way to prevent a third World War is to manifest a readiness to fight such a war. Tito is the tool of Moscow, and the deliberate firing on American citizens by Yugoslav aviators must have seemed an inexpensive way for the Yugoslav dictator to bid out for Moscow's benefit whether the United States would exchange a few notes and run away from European responsibilities.

Hence what the American government does and says in the Yugoslav crisis is important to future peace. Already "appears" are trying to blame the American aviators for having made flights over Yugoslav territory. If these flights were made, were any Yugoslav planes attacked and their passengers and crews murdered? If any American planes strayed from their course, is this not a matter for diplomatic protest and handling through official channels instead of firing on defenseless craft?

Irrespective of whether any flights did go a few miles into Yugoslav territory in the past, and even if Tito is right in his fantastic charge that the American planes used to fly military squadrons across the sky, this is a justification for a cowardly assault on defenseless planes?

There are the questions which confront President Truman and his department of state. On the firmness of the course pursued depends whether the United States will meet more trouble in Europe and eventually another war. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

A.F.L.'s WAR IS WONDERFUL
The A.F.L.'s support of Communism in the war is making C.I.O. big shots squirm.

At least two C.I.O. locals of the United Furniture Workers of America have revolted against their allegedly Communist dictators and walked out, asking for admission to the A.F.L., while a mass uprising inside the United Furniture Workers of America threatens to oust the Red minority which members claim "has seized control of the national office, the executive board, the paid staff, the union newspaper and some district councils and locals."

Numerous other C.I.O. unions where non-Communists are in a majority may be expected to wake up and toss out their pro-Soviet overlords as huge A.F.L. mass meetings and "courts" from coast to coast expose Communist activities in labor organizations and revive patriotism.

This war on Reds is the biggest thing the American Federation of Labor has pulled in years. True it was launched as a matter of self-defense because Communists, unable to get control of the federation apparently had decided to destroy it, salvaging for their own use such units as would go along with the Party.

But already the war is doing more for the A.F.L. and for Americanism than its field generals may have anticipated. It is making friends for the federation among all anti-Communist elements. It is knocking out of the hands of readers of New Deal soap the idea of the socialism of the Roosevelt era. It holds promise of becoming the kind of labor movement many of us have been pulling for.

'Illegal Forces' Are Sought in Village
Sedot Yam, Palestine, Aug. 26 (AP)—Two hundred residents of this tiny Jewish fishing village were rounded up by British troops and Palestinian police this morning in a move said by officers to be directed at finding the "frog men" who almost succeeded in sinking the immigrant transport Empire Rival at Haifa harbor last week.

The village was surrounded by a brigade unit before dawn and the villagers were herded into barbed wire enclosures for questioning by police while army crews searched homes and buildings. Mine detector equipment and dogs formerly used for mine detection in Germany were used in the search.

Brigadier R. H. Anderson, commander of the Second Brigade, who was in charge of the operation, said the village was cut off before dawn and "we believe (the raid) was a complete surprise to the villagers."

He said the village, only five miles from Haifa, was one of the bases for persons who blasted the ship, and added: "We know the village has harbored illegal forces."

Villagers said the search was the second conducted here. They added that the first search was made June 30.

Anderson said that today's roundup was aimed only at persons connected with the explosion, and was not for explosive materials, arms or illegal immigrants.

Villagers marched quietly to hastily erected wire enclosures and answered questions by British authorities. The military operation followed the pattern of a full-scale invasion.

Car Fails on Turn
John Albert of 11 West Strand, escaped injury at 3:25 o'clock this morning when his 1936 Ford sedan failed to make the turn in the road on Abel street, near Hudson street and turned over, according to a police report.

Reason for Debuts
Dear Mrs. Post: Please let me know the real reason for debuts. I notice you set the age at about 18 for a girl to make her debut. Is it permissible for her to make it at 16, if she is going away to college and then will be going out with boys and to grown-up parties?

Answer: It means she is considered old enough to go to grown-up parties. If she is going now to grown-up parties, she already (practically speaking) has made her debut.

MANNERS IN PUBLIC

In answer to what might be called a composite question about behavior in public places such as at baseball, football or hockey games, the rules that I have repeated most often are:

At all games, outdoors and indoors, there is no ban against talking, smoking, eating or yelling when your team scores. The only inconsiderate thing to guard against is jumping up in your excitement and forgetting that those behind do not find you transparent. Some day, too, perhaps a rule can be made to compel everyone in the bleachers to bring oilskins instead of umbrellas, unless the tiers of seats rise so steeply that an opened umbrella held low does not blot out the view of anyone behind. Should you have to put up an umbrella it is essential to hold it as close over your head as you can.

Flowers in Memoriam

Dear Mrs. Post: People in a near-by church, to which we often go, decorate the altar with flowers every Sunday in memory of a lost loved one. Since we are strangers—by this I mean we are not members of this church—although we go to services often, I am not sure whether it would be proper for us to send flowers in memory of some one in our family. We would like to if it is. Answer: Since you go to this church often, I am sure that the clergyman will be glad to have you send flowers, as you would like to. Moreover, he is probably happy to see you so often in church and does not consider you strangers.

The smallest pencil in his collection is about an inch and a half long and one-eighth of an inch thick. The longest is 15 inches, while the largest is about an inch through. Many of his pencils are from establishments long since gone out of business.

WOODSTOCK

The proceeds of the Lutheran fair, recently held, were about $500.

The proceeds of the auction sale August 22 on the green in front of the church, are given as about $1,100. A very large crowd attended.

Mrs. Stratton, an old and much respected resident of Woodstock, will shortly remove to Kingston where she will reside with her son.

Mrs. Mary Noonan has returned to Woodstock and is at present in her apartments in the Ella Lasher house. Her son is very ill in Jersey City. Mrs. Noonan expects to return there later this week and will then return to Woodstock.

The Jones store opposite town hall has been open again as an art shop, the new name being the "Weathered Studios." The store was conducted for many years by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jones and La Monte Simpkins was at one time a partner in the store. The place attained great popularity as one of the most attractive art and gift stores in the Catskills.

The property was acquired from Mr. Jones by Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Muraglia, who plan to keep the place open all year. They conducted the "Weathered Studios" in Forest Hills for three years before coming to Woodstock.

Mr. Muraglia studied at the Art Students League in New York and has worked in the circulation department of the New York Evening Journal.

Twenty complainants appeared at town hall on tax complaint day. This is reported to be the largest number that ever appeared on grievance day. Assessors Leslie Elwyn, Harry Kutzschbach and William Wilber were in attendance.

12,000 Teamsters May Quit Next Week

New York, Aug. 26 (AP)—A work stoppage by 12,000 teamsters in the New York area was threatened for next week after negotiations between truckers' Association and Union representatives were broken off.

The existing union contract expires August 31 and John E. Strong, president of Local 807, International Brotherhood of Teamsters (A.F.L.) said that "I don't think the men will work without a contract after September 3."

Arthur C. McKeever, president of the Motor Carrier Association of New York, said that a teamsters' stoppage would "paralyze commerce within New York city and, in addition, its effect would be countrywide as affecting goods in transit and the customary flow of traffic to, from and through the port of New York."

When they finally heaved Kevin back to safety, the bay was a horse of another color—muddy black.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Nagging Problem
New York, Aug. 26 (AP)—The ancient gag "get a horse" got a different twist yesterday—and it happened in Brooklyn, naturally.

The perspiring crew of a police emergency truck spent three hours hauling Kevin, a saddle horse who strayed from his appointed path, from four feet of fill in which he became bogged. His rider, Brooklynite Herbert Mensch, had jumped clear.

Time Enough
Chicago, Aug. 26 (AP)—Lt. Carl Relli has had to amend his order setting a 30-second time limit on telephone calls between state policemen on duty and their wives.

The wives objected when Relli, with romantic sympathy for unwed members of his force, allowed one minute for conversations with new girl friends; two minutes to sweethearts; and two and one-half minutes to fiancées.

So now wives get 45 seconds.

Little Man
Omaha, Aug. 26 (AP)—It cost Leonard J. Roessler, 18, of Grand Rapids, Neb., 117 pounds, but he's in the Marines at last.

Somewhat overweight at 300 pounds last spring, Roessler played football and used bar bells to whittle his poundage to a trim, hard 183.

The Marines snapped him up.

Lesser Evil
Chicago, Aug. 26 (AP)—Rex Allen, a radio singer, didn't want a lot of tin cans clattering when he and his bride, Bonnie Linder, a radio actress, took off on their honeymoon.

So he hid his car behind the broadcasting station.

After the ceremony yesterday in the studio, the newlyweds stole down to the car to find a window smashed and their luggage stolen.

Wedding guests supplied them with clothing for their trip to the Wisconsin Dells.

Allen decided he had been too fussy about tin cans. His wife agreed.

Boy's Body Is Found
Long Beach, N. Y., Aug. 26 (AP)—The body of a seven-year-old boy, identified as Peter Ceravolo of Brooklyn, was found yesterday floating in the ocean off Long Beach by the crew of a fishing boat. Police said the boy was the son of a doctor, F. J. Ceravolo, and that he had drowned on Thursday while swimming at Atlantic Beach, N. Y., where his family has a summer home.

Brophy to Sing on WOR

John G. Brophy of 231 Albany avenue signs for his appearance on the Mary Small Show over WOR, Thursday, August 29, at 9:30 p. m. in the presence of Robert W. Case, left, city manager of Roeder's Kingston Theatres and Robert Tessel, proprietor of The Barn. Brophy won the recent talent hunt conducted through the cooperation of the two observers and WKNY.

Blinded by Blast Of Booby Trap, Vet Runs Chicken Farm

Johnstown, Colo., Aug. 26 (AP)—Big, strapping Joe Baca picked up the water trough and walked from his neat five-room house to water his chickens just as any other farmer does near this northern Colorado town.

Without cane or dog, he went about feeding his flock of 350 and cleaning their troughs with scarcely a sign that a booby trap in the mountains of Italy had totally blinded him two years ago.

"I feel my way with my face," explained the 25-year-old veteran. Joe was taught facial vision at the army's Old Farms Convalescent Hospital at Avon, Conn., after army surgeons had restored parts of his face and body by plastic surgery.

Joe was a share-cropper near here when he entered the army November 9, 1942, leaving behind his wife, Lucille, and their infant son, Bobby. Four months later he was in Casablanca and from there went to Italy.

A private first class, Joe was moving from one gun site to another in August 1944 when his sergeant companion accidentally set off a booby trap, wounding both of them.

His final 14 weeks in army hospitals were spent in the Connecticut hospital. There he was taught to "feel" objects with his face as he approached them, or in the case of moving objects, as they approached him.

Back home and out of uniform, Joe went around to the Veterans Administration in Denver and worked out a plan for his future.

A loan was arranged for the purchase of the house near here on a one-acre plot, the right size for chicken raising. Joe is learning more things about the poultry business by taking on-the-job training at a nearby hatchery.

He hopes to expand his flock to 500 laying hens. There are some fruit trees on his plot that give the chickens the shade they need on hot days, and a good stand of alfalfa provides cheap feed.

For his correspondence, Joe has a typewriter, equipped with a Braille keyboard furnished by the V.A. When he wants to "read" he turns on a V.A.-furnished record player and listens to a book.

The baby he left in 1942 is a four-year-old now and accompanies him on his daily trip to town. Bobby is pretty handy around the chicken yard, too. When he isn't busy helping his dad, he sometimes gives his mother a hand with the latest addition to the family, a sister.

The "shelf life" of foods has been lengthened from one to five and even ten days by special experimental packaging.

G.A.R. Plans Another Encampment for 1947

Indianapolis, Aug. 26 (AP)—Veterans of the Civil War cast aside today any idea that they are holding the last encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

National Chairman Robert M. Rownd, 102, of Ripley, N. Y., declared the G.A.R. would accept an invitation to return to Indianapolis for another encampment next year if it were offered. Convention headquarters reported that 10 members, the youngest 96 years old, had arrived for the convention and several more had sent reservations.

Yanni's Club Plays Local All-Stars at City Stadium Tonight; Police Rout Recreations With Big 11th Inning Rally, 11 to 3

Eight-Run Bulge Climaxes Mound Duel at Stadium

First New York Victory Over Locals Since 1940; Po'keepsie Roe Mover Here Next Saturday

The Kingston Recreations' cloak of invincibility over the New York Police finally was solved at municipal stadium Saturday night in one great sudden-death finish when the Bluecoats from Gotham hammered over eight big runs in the 11th inning to win an 11 to 3 overtime verdict over the local club.

With nearly 2,300 cash customers looking on, the two clubs fought over the regulation nine innings with the score at a 3-2 deadlock. Then in a Frank Merriwell finish the visitors blasted Billy Ostrom out of the box and before Dick Fitzgerald put out the fire, the Police team had tallied a bulge of 11 runs. By virtue of that avalanche of power the New Yorkers went home with their first baseball win over the Recreations since 1940.

Ostrom and Jim Mooney hooked up in a brilliant pitcher's duel for the first nine stanzas in one of the best ball games seen at the stadium this year. Ostrom, who was making his first start since throwing a no-hitter against the Puerto Ricans a couple of weeks ago, didn't have his usual stuff as he walked seven batters and gave up 10 base hits in his 10 and one-thirds innings on the hill. Mooney, on the other hand, got out of early inning jitters and went on to hurl excellent ball. After Joe Wahl's double in the fifth, Mooney didn't allow another hit until the 11th when Steve Ristau's infield pop fly fell for a scratch single.

Poukeepsie Next Week
The long-awaited series with the Poukeepsie Roe Movers will start at the uptown ball orchard next Saturday night. The Bridge City club will have such stars as "Whiskey" Tulacz, Ernie Downer and Buddy Van Herpe ready to throw at the Recs. The second game of the series will be played in Poukeepsie September 15.

Miss Scoring Chances
The Recs tossed away a couple of good scoring chances in the early innings before a run came across. In the first, after Bambara opened with a single, and then punted second, Gentile batted a screaming drive to center which Peters gloved and threw fast to second to double up Bambara who was already turning at third on the clout. Bambara started things again in the third with a single to center but was caught stealing. Gentile was hit by a pitched ball and rode home on Joe Wahl's busy triple to deep left. Wahl pulled into third and over run the bag. A quick toss from Jeff Quinn to Romaine nabbed Wahl at the "hot corner" to erase another marker.

Coyle's single to left, a sacrifice, Ashdown muffed of Branch's drive to right and Jack Peters' one-baser to the infield allowed the New Yorkers to knot the count in the fourth. The policemen took a 2-1 margin in the fifth when Nally walked, went to second on Mooney's bunt and then scored on Jim Quinn's single to right.

Kingston pushed across its final runs in the fifth with the aid of

Rival Managers Exchange Greetings

After the New York Police rallied to win Saturday night's benefit baseball game from the Kingston Recreations, Manager Joe Hoffman of the locals proffered his congratulations to Steve Wahl, pilot of the Gotham Bluecoats. Walt Fitzgerald, general chairman of the entire affair, looks on with approval. (Ken Roosa Photo)

Jirak's error, a walk to Ostrom, Bambara's bunt and Wahl's double to center. Wahl attempted to stretch the double and was thrown out at third for the final out.

What proved to be the tying run came over for the visitors in the eighth. Jim Quinn walked, stole second and rode in on Branch's single through the hole in right.

Homer Clears Sacks
Eleven New Yorkers batted in the 11th inning. Jack Peters opened the doings with a long ball to left for a triple. Quinn smashed a boulder through the box which Ostrom deflected over to Gentile who couldn't make the play and it went for a single as the tie-breaking run scored. Nally bunted but Mooney biffed a singleton to center driving in Quinn. After Jirak walked, Jimmy Quinn slammed a deep drive to center scoring Mooney and Jirak. This time Ostrom took a walk and Fitzgerald came in from bullpen. On a squeeze play Coyle hit to Fitz who picked up the pill and threw low to first as Quinn crossed the pay-off platter. Romaine walked and this set the stage for Ed Branch who promptly whacked a long drive over Ristau's out-home. The ball rolled past the first line marker out of the playfield as Coyle and Romaine came over ahead of him. The next two batters went down in order to end the hectic inning.

A tainted infield single by Ristau was the only threatening gesture the Recs could offer Mooney in the bottom half of the 11th.

Press Box Jottings
The great crowd was in a holiday festive mood from the outset. Lots of noise and a continuous flurry of paper gave the stadium a snowed-out appearance. Too bad we couldn't have a few more clouds like that one.

The famous Doodledorfer were in the stands and favored the customers with some of their likeable music before game time. The band paraded down from the Elks Club following the policemen's dinner in honor of the visiting policemen.

Spectators in back of first base enjoyed a "field day" during batting practice when several foul balls landed in the stands. Mayor Edelmutz presented each member of the winning Hasbrouck Park team, champs of the City Park League, with appropriate prizes in a brief pre-game ceremony.

Steve Ristau's great defensive abilities were tested again in the second when he galloped over to left center to grab Nally's long ball. It was one of the nicest catches seen this year.

The liveliest "rhubarb" of the year delayed the game for a few minutes in the second after Bill Schwab called Peters out at second on an attempted steal. Half of the visiting club rushed up to the arbutus tree to cheer him.

Jess Collier, umpire-in-chief, finally entered the brawl and was seen the target of threatening gestures. Tempers flared to a near breaking point until Collier persuaded his tormentors to continue on with the game.

Jim Quinn, the visiting rightfielder, pulled off the play of the game in the sixth when he made a sensational one-handed stab of Steve Ristau's long ball. Proceeds of Saturday's benefit game will go towards the Veterans' Memorial, the Mayor's Christmas Cheer and the Police Welfare Funds. The revenue should be worthwhile judging from the size of the crowd.

The affair proved to be a huge success under the capable direction of Walt Fitzgerald, president of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association who was general chairman of the occasion.

After a delicious dinner, the program was turned over to Thomas Davis who acted as master of ceremonies for a brief floor show which included singing by John Brophy and Leo Barnett, recent winners of the local talent hunt.

Danny Hasbrouck, member of the New York Police, also favored the group with a few songs and between were Earl S. Hoonmaker, chairman, Joseph P. Fallon, on the program and presented a number of songs with the aid of sets; and James Burns, reception.

Blue Border Seen As Derby Threat

His Saratoga Performance Upsets Record and May Be Choice

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 26 (P)—Blue Border, the record-breaking winner of the Grand Union Hotel Stakes, might be the fifth Kentucky Derby winner that the late Col. E. R. Bradley always wanted.

It's a long time until next May, but it had also been a long time since a two-year-old caused such a stir in racing circles as did the bounding brown colt which on Saturday won the Hotel Stakes in 1:09 3/5 for six furlongs around turns. That not only smashed the track mark of 1:10 made over the lightning fast strip the previous day by Degage, a year older, but came within two-fifths of a second of the American standard set by Clane, another three-year old 11 years ago in the west.

Col. Bradley did not live to enjoy the effect of Blue Border's smashing first triumph in four starts, having died less than two weeks before. It would have been particularly thrilling to the man who owned and bred the colt, for he considered Blue Border's daddy, Bimelech, as fine a horse as he ever had—along with Blue Larkspur. Brother John Bradley now heads the stable, using the same famous silks.

Paid $28.00 for $2
Blue Border who paid $28.00 for two, defeated the most fashionable field of youngsters brought together here. Jay Paley, 1, a Good Stakes winner and dead games, was second and Mrs. Dodge Sloan's Grand Admiral third.

Blue Border wasn't the only record breaker at Saratoga Saturday, for Lucky Draw, owned by George D. Widener, clipped a fifth of a second off the track record by winning the Saratoga Handicap in 2:01 3/5. It was his fourth track record in his last five trips to the post, so it was getting to be an old story for Lucky Draw, who paid $4.30.

The betting also established a new mark with a handle of $1,292,384, more than $20,000 better than last week's all-time high.

Although there was no stake on today's program, an excellent card of eight races was scheduled featuring the $8,000 added Hurricane Handicap, a Class C event that had drawn a field of six, including Harry Lamontagne's Lark Day, Glen Riddle Farms' Lark Trophy, Jay Paley's Best Effort, Sunshine Stable's Let's Dance, Greenview Stable's Coincidence and Joseph Dushock's Mahmoudess.

Ohio Swimmer Captures Main Event at Williams Lake Sunday

Kirschner Sets New Record in A.A.U. Race; 52 Aquatic Performers Compete for Honors

Jerry Kirschner, of Columbus, Ohio, led a record list of 52 entrants to the finish line in the Senior National A.A.U. long distance swimming championships at Williams Lake, Rosendale, Sunday, in the time of one hour 32 minutes 15.6 seconds, a new record for the 3 1/2-mile course. Second place went to John McCarthy of the University of Michigan who finished a short distance ahead of Jack Taylor, 15-year-old lad from the Firestone Club of Akron, O. Others among the leaders were Steve Wozniak, of the Buffalo Athletic Club, fourth; Donald Gross, a youngster of 13 from the Firestone Club, fifth; Harry Rutter, unattached, of Buffalo, sixth; Al Rukiewicz, Naugatuck, Conn., Y.M.C.A., seventh; James McNamie, also of the Naugatuck "Y," eighth; Steve Martincheck, New York A. C., ninth; and Arthur Van Haven, University of Iowa, 10th.

Team honors went to the New York A.C. with a team composed of Steve Martincheck, James McNamie, and William Irwin who scored a low of 12 points just three points ahead of the Firestone Athletic Club of Akron, Ohio, with 15 points. The Flatbush Boys' Club of Brooklyn finished third with 28 points.

In the individual race Kirschner grabbed the lead at the start and never gave it up. Only once was he severely challenged when at the half-way mark Jack Taylor, then in second place pulled up abreast of Kirschner. Jerry successfully met the challenge, however, and steadily increased his lead until he had a margin of about 300 yards at the finish. McCarthy, of Michigan, put on a sprint in the home stretch which carried him past Taylor and into second place.

The Veteran Swimmers Trophy for the first one over 35 years of age to finish went to 45-year-old Al Sullivan of the Naugatuck Y.M.C.A. who crossed the finish line in 12th position. Ira Morse Rowell, of Newburgh, a 56-year-old veteran, received a great hand from the 3 1/2-mile grind in 36th place. Charlie Roeder, of Philadelphia was the referee. Other officials included Laurence Johnson, chairman of the National A.A.U. Swimming Committee; Bob Kiputh, coach of Yale University swimming team; Max Ritter, member of the United States Olympic committee; John Miller, Meersburg Academy coach; and Bill Leonard, Frank Callahan, George Mahar, George Bittner, and Alex Grossman of the Adirondack Association of the A.A.U.

Middies Acquire New Grid Mentor For Coming Season

Ed Rodiek, Ex-M.H.S. and Syracuse Player, Is Approved by Board of Education

Middletown High School's 1946 football team will have its first new coach in four years when the Middies play Yonkers September 28. Succeeding Dan Finch, who has piloted the Middletown team for the past three seasons will be Ed Rodiek, former Middletown High School and Syracuse University gridiron standout.

This announcement was made last week after the Board of Education approved the recommendation of Jack Hughes, Middle physical education director. The board also okayed the appointments of Dan Finch and Ed Faller as Rodiek's assistants.

Rodiek, who is 28, was an outstanding athlete on Middletown's 1933 and 1934 squads and later became one of Syracuse's great quarterbacks. He played freshman football with the Orange as center.

Following his graduation from Syracuse the newly-appointed coach was signed to pilot the track and six-man football team at Cato-Meridian, a Central School, north of Syracuse. He left that post in 1942 to enter the navy.

The following is Middletown's gridiron schedule for 1946:
Sept. 28—Yonkers (home)
Oct. 5—Mt. Pleasant (away)
Oct. 11—Kingston (away)
Oct. 18—Newburgh (away)
Oct. 25—Port Jervis (home)
Nov. 1—Kingston (home)
Nov. 8—Open date
Nov. 16—Newburgh (home)
Nov. 23—Port Jervis (away)

Queens, Monroe Tied
Cazenovia, N. Y., Aug. 26 (P)—Queens and Monroe county teams were tied as the final round ended yesterday in the New York State Chess Championship tournament for the Genesee Cup. Tournament officials said that one game is to be "adjudicated" by chess experts, their decision to determine the winner. Anthony E. Santasere of New York won individual honors.

Winners at Williams Lake

Jerry Kirschner of Columbus, O., won the Senior National A.A.U. long distance swimming championship for men at Williams Lake Sunday afternoon and broke last year's record at the same time. The Ohio aquatic performer was clocked in the time of one hour, 32 minutes and 15.6 seconds after the grueling three and a half-mile race. He beat last year's mark by two minutes.

Jack Taylor, 15-year-old swimmer representing the Firestone Club of Akron, O., and Johnny McCarthy of the University of Michigan are shown at the finish line. McCarthy placed second just a short distance ahead of Taylor. A total of 52 swimmers participated in Sunday's mammoth event at Williams Lake. (Photos by Hal and Lou, Williams Lake photographers)

McNeill, Guernsey Surprise Selves by Getting in Finals
Pair Who Gave Up Their Hotel Reservations Are Matched in U. S. Doubles Play

Brookline, Mass., Aug. 26 (P)—Ex-servicemen Don McNeill and Frank Guernsey not only surprised the U. S. Davis Cup team selectors but also themselves by getting into today's national doubles tennis championship match at Longwood.

Apparently agreeing they had no chance in their semi-finals against Jack Kramer and Ted Schroeder, a pair of two-time winners, McNeill and Guernsey surrendered their hotel accommodations early yesterday.

But they managed to regain their sleep in plenty of time to get ample rest in preparation for their final engagement with title-defenders Bill Talbert and Gardner Mulloy.

Kramer and Schroeder were brushed off the courts by 7-5, 6-3, 6-2 margins while Talbert and Mulloy qualified for the championship round for the third time since 1942 by defeating Frank Parker and Bib Falkenberg, 3-6, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1, 8-6.

The women's finalists were defending champions Louise Brough and Margaret Osborne, who have held the titles since 1942, and Mrs. Patricia Canning Todd of Jajolla, Calif., and Mrs. Mary Arnold Prentiss of Los Angeles.

Brough, Osborne Qualify

Former Rec Player Is Coming Here With Crack Club

Kaufman, or Neff Sated to Hurl for Kingston; Game Time Scheduled for 8:30 P.M.

With either Bill Kaufman or Charlie Neff ready to take the mound, the Kingston All-Stars are ready to tangle with Chuck Yanni's Albany City League All-Stars tonight at municipal stadium in a game under the lights. The contest will start at 8:30 o'clock.

Interest in tonight's after-dark tilt presages a good turnout of diamond fans at this battle. The local club has a great following of spectators here who have been clamoring for another exhibition ever since the Stars wrapped up an easy 15 to 2 victory over the West Point team a few weeks ago.

The appearance of Chuck Yanni at the stadium also is expected to attract a good gathering of diamond patrons to the uptown orchard. Yanni was a favorite performer here before the war while wearing the livery of the Recreations.

Yanni himself will play tonight's game and will be found at his usual third base position. The rest of the Albany lineup is expected to comprise Fred Higgins at first, Tucker Jones at second, Yanni at third and Jack Weininger at short. The Albany outfield will have Al Van Amburg, Steve Trambach and Nick Arossi from left to right. Either Jackie LeMay or Joe Brosky will do the catching for Yanni's visiting nine.

Although Manager Yanni hasn't selected his starting hurler it is expected that young Bobby O'Neil will get the assignment. O'Neil hurled a perfect game in the Albany Two-Light League last week when he let down the opposition without a hit, run or walk. Others on the mound staff for Albany are Ken Ringler, Eddie Zimmerman and Don Hillman, all crafty throwers according to Yanni.

Anxious to Appear
Manager Yanni professed his anxiety to appear here in Kingston again this year when talking with reporters recently. "Ever since my days with the Recreations I've entertained the desire to return to Kingston and play ball. Now I have the chance and your local fans will be glad to see a-snappy ball club from top members in the Albany City League."

The former Rec third sacker added that he had picked the "cream of the crop" from the league and that he thought his players could rack up a win here tonight.

This will be the first test for the local All-Stars since they crushed West Point in a benefit game some weeks ago. Last Monday the team was scheduled to meet the Millbrook Giants of the Mid-Hudson League at the stadium but weather postponed that meeting.

Kaufman, the pitching sensation from Saugerties, or Neff, will get the mound assignment for the All-Stars tonight. Both fingers are ready to go and either one should be capable of throwing plenty of stuff at the Capital City invaders.

Newburgh Stops Clintons 6 to 5 Sunday Afternoon

Bill Windburn Is Loser in Duel With Jack McCormick; Schatzel Collects Three Hits

The long 13-game winning streak of Tommy Maines' Gov. Clinton Market baseball team came to an end Sunday afternoon when the Newburgh Grandstand Tavern club scored a close 6 to 5 victory on the Hill City field.

Jack McCormick went the distance for the Newburghers and pitched nine-hit ball. Billy Windburn also went the route for Kingston but was the victim of spotty support.

A three-run rally in the fourth proved to be the clincher for Newburgh despite later uprisings by the marketmen when they shoved across two in the sixth and one more in the seventh.

Dave Freer, who handles the public address system for all stadium contests, also was on hand Sunday and gave the fans in Newburgh an up-to-the-minute account of the game.

Better Golf

By SAM SNEAD

1. In golf, one fault leads to another. Today's player has loosened the grip on his left hand at the top which is the very place the hands must be kept closed. Opening the left hand grip is usually caused by swinging back and up too fast. This gives the clubhead so much momentum that there is a heavy pull on the left hand at the top. The result is over-swinging. Notice that clubshaft, instead of being parallel to the ground, is pointing down to the ground. When the player starts his downswing, he will instinctively close that left hand. This will throw the clubhead out of line and the clubhead will swing outside-in across the direction line producing a slice. But if this player had kept a closed, firm left grip at the top his clubhead in the downswing would have retraced the path it took in the up-swing, and the player would have swung a straight club into the ball, slightly inside-out along the direction line for a long straight shot. Mr. Harvey a member of Excelsior Hose Co., was one of the 53 volunteer firemen of Kingston who marched in the parade that day. The parade marked the 50th anniversary of the Yonkers fire department.

Leading Politicos Cast in Contests

Booth the Luce bowing off the stage. Former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, who is running openly for the next G.O.P. presidential nomination will be the keynoter.

Some politicians think the long standing friendship between Stassen and Baldwin may flower openly as a political alliance. Baldwin, who carried Connecticut by 26,000 votes in 1944 when the late President Roosevelt was winning it by 44,000, looks like a vice presidential possibility in 1948 if the Republicans should go west for the head of the ticket.

Chief figure in the democratic convention is ex-O.P.A. chieftain Chester Bowles, who apparently wants to run for governor but is encountering suggestions from the organization headed by Senator Brien McMahon that he run for the Senate seat Thomas C. Hart (R) is vacating.

A successful race by Bowles in either contest might make him an outstanding possibility for the vice presidential nomination in 1948. Bowles may be looking toward 1952, also.

In Maine's general election, September 9, Senator Owen Brewster (R) is opposed for re-election by Peter M. MacDonald, former Democratic State Committee chairman.

Gov. Horace A. Hildreth's bid for a second term is contested by F. Davis Clark (D), lawyer and veteran of Pacific fighting. Three Republicans seek re-election.

Burglars Blow Safe After Chaining Watchman

New York, Aug. 26 (AP)—Chaining the 64-year-old night watchman to a radiator, burglars this morning blasted open the safe at the Claremont Inn, 124th street and Riverside Drive, and escaped with what police say of the West 100th street station estimated as between $10,000 and $12,000.

The watchman, Thomas Starace of 108-58 28th avenue, Corona, Queens, freed himself from the chains about 6 a. m. and called police.

Police said the watchman told them the burglars entered the restaurant, located on a terrace overlooking the Hudson river, a few hours earlier and chained him to a radiator.

Some time later, police reported, the watchman heard a muffled explosion. After he had released himself he found the safe blown open.

FLAG RAISING AT CAIRO — King Farouk (left, dark glasses) bends to kiss the Egyptian flag before raising it over The Citadel, centuries-old fortress overlooking Cairo, which the British recently evacuated. British Deny They Have Supply Base
In the Dardanelles

London, Aug. 26 (P)—The foreign office said today that Great Britain had sent radar equipment and technicians to Turkey but denied a Russian newspaper assertion that the British had established a military supply base in the Dardanelles.

Russia recently demanded from Turkey a large voice in control of the straits which link the Black and Mediterranean seas. Turkey refused.

The foreign office said the radar equipment probably would be used in Turkey for "civil purposes." The British announced last week that they had sent radar experts to Sweden, over which mysterious rockets have been flying in connection with the sale of radar equipment.

The official Russian news agency Tass distributed reports dated from Beyrouth, Lebanon, yesterday asserting that Great Britain had established military installations on the Dardanelles. The report said radar stations had been set up and airfields were being taken over by the British.

A foreign office spokesman described the reports as "provocative fabrications" and added:

"We've established no supply base, nor have we taken over any airfields, although we have supplied the Turks with radar equipment. We have also sent over technicians to demonstrate the workings of the apparatus. But we've done so with several other countries."

Dutch Nation Hopes
King May Be Born

Soestdijk, Holland, Aug. 26 (P)—Crown Princess Juliana is pregnant again and the stolid Dutch once more are in a dither over whether at long last a future king may be born.

A communique from Juliana's palace here said coyly: "Princess Juliana of the Netherlands for a joyful reason has to restrict her activities." There was no suggestion when the royal cradle would rock again, as it has for Juliana's three previous daughters.

It has been 56 years since a man sat on the Dutch throne. Queen Wilhelmina, 68, succeeded her father, William III, in 1890 and she will be succeeded by Juliana. German Prince Bernhard is Juliana's consort. Their daughters are Irene, 8; Beatrix, 7; and Margriet, 3, who was born in Canada during the war.

Jury Will Hear Case

New York, Aug. 26 (P)—A grand jury today will hear the details of the fatal shooting of Michael Crawford, 43, who police said was mistaken for a holdup man and killed by Patrolman John Kennelly yesterday. Crawford, a prison guard at Riker's Island penitentiary and father of three young children, was shot as he alighted from a taxi at 125th Street and Park Avenue at 3 a. m. yesterday. With him at the time was Bernard Gorman, a fellow worker, who said they were returning from work.

They said a vote in a small county allotted two unit votes would have perhaps as much as 100 times the value as a vote in Fulton (Atlanta) county, arbitrarily pegged at six unit votes.

The World Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Diplomats in both Washington and London are viewing the "release" of Maxim Litvinoff from his position as Soviet deputy foreign minister as having a special significance in the present strained situation between the Russian bloc and the western Allies.

American diplomatic circles in Washington interpret this development as a blow to Russian cooperation with the United States and Britain, London, also apparently viewing the change through dark glasses, notes that Litvinoff long has been an advocate of collective security and close relations with England and America. In the past his resignations and appointments sometimes have foreshadowed changes in Soviet foreign policy.

Perhaps it's possible to exaggerate the importance of the old revolutionary's "release." He is seventy years old, and I happen to know that he is far from being a well man. His health may enter into the picture. Be that as it may, whether he is being let out because of his beliefs or because of his health, it's safe to assume that the Soviet government does not contemplate a more vigorous—or perhaps more alert—foreign policy and that, for one reason or the other, he doesn't fit into the picture any longer.

In short, it looks as though the Soviet foreign office were girding for action. Moscow has a lot of balls in the air and it will take some juggling to keep them going.

The general picture emphasizes the growing breach between Russia on the one hand and the United States and Britain on the other—the Big Three upon whom we are banking to preserve the peace of the world. This column has stressed that point before, and returns to it now because it is vital that each of us should recognize the dangerous drift.

Russians Make Protest
To Greeks on Movies, News

Athens, Aug. 26 (P)—It was learned on highest authority today that Soviet Ambassador Constantin Rodinov delivered a communication to the Greek government Friday protesting criticism of Soviet Russia in monarchist sections of the Greek press.

The communication also was reported to have taken exception to the failure of Greek police to authorize the showing of Soviet films. Acting Foreign Minister Stephanos Stephanopoulos was said to have replied that police would be instructed to allow the showing of films and repeated the answer given to the Yugoslav protest five days ago against press criticism—the Greek press is free.

assistance movement, took an active part in the war against Germany . . . This part of the amendment was supported by Russia, as well as all other members of the commission except Yugoslavia, which ignored a suggestion to make the adoption unanimous.

The Netherlands agreed to withdraw the following words contained in the original draft of the amendment: "And Italy declared war on Germany as from October 13, 1943, and on Japan as from July 15, 1945, and thereby became a co-belligerent against Germany and Japan."

One paragraph of the Italian preamble remains to be acted upon.

A concerted campaign by Russia and her satellites against countries separating the Soviet bloc from the Mediterranean seemed in the opinion of some observers here, to be taking shape today as the peace conference entered its fifth week.

Indications of such a campaign were noted in these recent developments:

An announcement over the weekend that the Soviet Ukraine was asking the United Nations Security Council to investigate Greece as a threat to peace in the Balkans.

Repeated demands by Yugoslavia for Italian territory in the disputed Venezia Giulia area. A Russian note to Turkey asking for a voice in the control of the Dardanelles.

West Opposes Bloc

In general, western countries have opposed the Russian bloc in every move against the three Mediterranean countries. U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes has been one of the principal defenders of British-occupied Greece; Britain, France and the United States have opposed granting large sections of Venezia Giulia to Yugoslavia; and Britain, France and the United States have gone on record as against Russian control of the Dardanelles.

Differences between eastern and western powers seemingly were reflected yesterday when Molotov and Ukrainian Foreign Minister Dmitri Manuisky walked out on a celebration marking the second anniversary of the liberation of Paris.

The two ministers were believed to have "taken a walk" because of seating arrangements which placed them on second row benches, while the United States, Britain, China and France were on the first row.

Seats were assigned alphabetically, and the United States—listed as "Amerique"—thus had choice seats.

Molotov and Manuisky departed immediately after the arrival of French President Georges Bidault and the playing of the French National Anthem. They did not wait for an address by Bidault.

The United States delegation meanwhile, was swelled by the arrival of U. S. Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, U. S. Senator Tom Connally (D. Tex.), Byrnes' other Senate adviser for the conference arrived last week.

The heads of several delegations left the conference over the weekend to return to their native countries. Among those departing were Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada; Herbert V. Evatt, Australian minister of external affairs; Ernest Bevin, British foreign secretary; Jan C. Masaryk, Czechoslovakian foreign minister; and Halvard M. Lange, Norway foreign minister and chairman of the conference General Steering Committee.

Bevin was not expected to return until Wednesday.

Chinese War Flames
Brighter in Manchuria

Peiping, Aug. 26 (P)—China's internal war flamed anew today in Manchuria, where opposing government and Chinese Communist armies were moving to new battle positions. A surprise Red attack already had isolated the government garrison near Tieling, important station on the vital Mukden-Changchun railroad.

Government reinforcements pushed north out of Mukden and south out of Changchun to aid the garrison at Tieling.

The government's new First Army moved toward Changchun, the Manchurian capital and its new Sixth Army marched into Jehol Province to the west—where press reports indicated fighting at three points. Included was the Lingyuan area 75 miles west of Chength, Red-held Jehol capital.

Soviet Flier Lands

Seoul, Aug. 26 (P)—American army authorities announced today that a two-seated Soviet army liaison plane had landed unopposed Sunday at Kimpo air-drome 18 miles west of Seoul. The pilot, now awaiting clearance from the airport, became lost on a flight from Dairen to Vladivostok, the announcement said.

Rhinehart Says Polio Cases May Hit New High in 1946

The nation right now is experiencing what may prove to be one of the largest polio epidemics in the recorded history of the disease in this country. This was made known today by Robert L. Rhinehart, chairman of the Ulster County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"So far this year," Mr. Rhinehart said "according to the U. S. Public Health Service the upsurge of polio cases nationally has exceeded the rise during similar periods ever since infantile paralysis figures have been reported by that agency."

"In Ulster county," said Mr. Rhinehart, "four cases of polio have been reported thus far in 1946. He added "We cannot tell how severely we may be hit, but the National Foundation and its chapters are prepared as never before. Long-range planning early this spring now is paying invaluable dividends in ability to meet the present emergency."

Mr. Rhinehart explained that should any chapter exhaust its treasury in providing for adequate care and treatment of victims in its area, national headquarters sends in supplementary financial aid.

"Services of the Foundation," said Mr. Rhinehart "are rendered polio patients regardless of age, race, creed or color."

Fireman's Hand Hurt At Apartment Fire

Paid Fireman Philip Ahl suffered an injured hand, and the apartment of Mrs. Sadie Marshall on the second floor of the two-story frame house at 75 Franklin street was damaged in a fire that broke out in a couch in the room shortly after 9 o'clock Saturday evening, according to the fire department.

The fire department received a telephone call which was followed by an alarm from Box 1241, at Clinton avenue and Franklin street.

Fireman Ahl had removed a lock from one of the windows when the upper sash fell on his hand. He was taken to the Kingston Hospital where the wound was treated.

The fire spread from the couch to an overstuffed chair. The side-wall back of the couch was damaged.

Firemen said that the probable cause of the fire was from a cigarette stub. They said no one was home in the Marshall apartment at the time of the fire.

The first floor of the house is occupied by Harold Priest.

Moslem Leader Is In Bad Condition From Stab Wounds

New Delhi, Aug. 26 (AP)—Sir Shafat Ahmad Khan, Moslem member of India's new interim government, was in a serious condition from seven stab wounds at Simla today as new Moslem-Hindu riots flared in this turbulent city over the week-end.

Armed police patrolled the streets in the old portion of New Delhi enforcing a dawn-to-dusk curfew imposed after an outbreak of violence which caused two deaths and injured 30 Saturday night. Last night another person was killed when police fired to disperse opposing groups of Moslems in Allahabad.

(Reuters quoted the New Delhi radio as saying the New Delhi casualties totaled four dead and 64 injured.)

The 53-year-old Sir Shafat was said by Simla police to have been attacked by two young men while walking home five hours after his appointment to the new government had been announced. He had resigned from the Moslem League a few days ago, reportedly because he refused to drop his title in accord with league policy. Until 1944 he had been Indian high commissioner for South Africa.

Disturbances also broke out in Calcutta, where police opened fire to disperse a crowd of textile mill workers after clashes between rival trade unions. A boy was wounded and two women were arrested.

Vicror Lord Wavell announced Saturday the formation of a new interim government headed by Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, president of the Congress party. Wavell urged the Moslem League to join with the British in an effort to give the Indians their independence.

The resolution stated that the committee would instruct "its delegates to the state convention to support Fiorello La Guardia for senator."

The A.L.P. convention will be held September 3 at the Hotel New Yorker in New York city.

Security Council Will Give Hearing

Albania, mentioned in the complaint as a victim of border violations is the principal bone of contention among the nine nations seeking United Nations membership. Albania filed application last January backed by Yugoslavia and Russia.

In preliminary discussions among the Council's Committee on Admissions, Britain and the United States have questioned Albania. The British wanted to know about the firing on British warships off the Albanian coast; the United States reserved its position because of the refusal of Albania to recognize pre-war treaties with the U. S.

There is no present opposition to applications by Afghanistan, Iceland and Sweden.

Outer Mongolia is sponsored by Russia and opposed by China. Siam is opposed by France and Russia.

Portugal, Eire and Trans Jordan are opposed by Russia.

Any of the five great powers may kill any application if it chooses to exercise its veto right.

Endorsements Are Made

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Aug. 26 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and U. S. Senator James M. Mead (D-N.Y.) have been endorsed as U. The district claims to represent 15,000 chemical workers in Erie, Genesee and Niagara counties.

Mercury Is Down To 50 on Sunday

Rural Thermometers Dip to 38 in Nearby Areas

Sunday and Saturday were the coldest days so far this month in Kingston, according to the official thermometer at the city hall, which showed a low of 51 degrees Saturday, while on Sunday the mercury dipped to a low of 50 degrees.

While the official thermometer here was recording 50 and 51 degrees, thermometers in sections outside of Kingston were registering as low as 38 to 40 degrees.

Last night was 8 degrees warmer, with the 58 degrees being the lowest recorded by the city thermometer.

Pilot and Passenger Injured in Plane Crash

Farmingdale, N. Y., Aug. 26, (AP)—The pilot and passenger of a small plane were injured yesterday, the pilot critically, when their rented aircraft crashed into a field 15 miles from this Long Island town.

Police said they understood the plane had been flying at an altitude of only 50 feet shortly before the crash occurred.

The pilot, John Swiersky, 22, (of 30-12 40th street, Astoria, Queens, New York city), was taken to Huntington Hospital, where attendants said his condition was "very poor." He received compound fractures of both legs, a fractured skull and other injuries.

The passenger, Ralph De Ricci, 31, of (6 Siedman place), Franklin Square, received lacerations of the scalp and a possible fractured jaw.

The plane was rented at the Hicksville Air Park, police said.

Girl Takes $13,000 For Self, Friend

Police Say 16-Year-Old Cashier Confesses

Chicago, Aug. 26 (AP)—A 16-year-old girl cashier who "wanted to get rich quick" has confessed, police said today, that she took $13,000 from a wholesale grocery where she was employed, spent $3,000 on new clothes, and lavished $10,000 on a 17-year-old-boy friend.

The two were detained without charge for further questioning on a complaint signed by the owner of the grocery.

"I wanted to get rich fast, I guess, and he and I both needed a car," Acting Captain Daniel Ahearn of Englewood police quoted the girl as saying in a signed statement.

Ahearn said $1,624 of the missing money had been found in the boy's home, and that the youth had bought a 1946 automobile at $2,000 above the ceiling price with money given him by his $30 a week fiancée at intervals since last May.

Jacob Panteliot, owner of State Wholesale Grocers, Inc., said he accidentally discovered the shortage Friday. He said the girl, employed by him since last April 3, handled $3,000 to $7,500 a day as it was turned in by truckers.

Census Shows More Single Women Than Men

Washington, Aug. 26 (AP)—Census figures showed up today as so much romantic sabotage to those reports that the war left a scarce supply of single males.

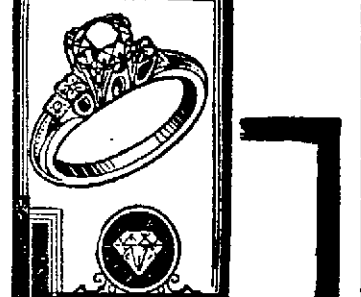

On the contrary the gals have an edge in the marriage odds. The statistics show that in the marriageable age groups there are more single men than single women.

"There still are more than enough men to go around," Dr. Hope T. Eldridge, census bureau analysis expert, told a reporter.

Right now she figures there are 1,500,000 or more single men, eligible males.

Rachel Crothers wrote a five-act melodrama at the age of 12.
